BY FLANAGAN*Broke Olympic Record For
Hammer Throwing*AND WON FIRST PLACE*Shepard, Another American, Captured
First Place in the 1,500-metre Run—
Englishman Captured Long Distance Walk To-day.

London, July 14.—John J. Flanagan, the New York policeman, won the final in the hammer throw at the Olympic games to-day, with a hurl of 170 feet and 4 1/2 inches. This broke the Olympic record and all the English records. Mar. McGrath, another New York cop, was second with a throw of 169 feet and half an inch. C. Walsh of Canada was third with 159 feet and half an inch.

Yesterday's rain put the track in splendid condition for to-day's events. At the outset of the day the Englishmen claimed all the distance runs and declared that their chances of winning the Olympiad were better than ever before. To-day's card was heavy and it was figured that it would take ten hours to complete the program, which included the final in the hammer-throwing, the 1,500-metre run and the 5,000-metre run.

The American successes were continued when Melvin W. Shepard of the Irish-American, won the final in the 1,500-metre run from a field of eight. His time of four minutes, three and two-fifths seconds, equals the new Olympic mark made by Hallows, the Englishman, yesterday. Hallows ran second to-day to his countryman, H. A. Wilson.

The first English success was attained when Lerner captured first and Webb second in the 2,500-metre walk. Kerr, the Australian, was third. The time was 15 minutes and 56 seconds.

In the 600-metre bicycle race, Cameron was the only American to qualify for the final. C. W. Gledzie, American, won the first heat in the fancy driving contest.

Evening.

Rochester, N. Y., July 14.—About $125,000 damage was done last night by fire that destroyed the plant of the Genesee Fruit company, in the north-western part of the city, in which besides machinery were stored, cedar, vinegar and grain. The building was a large one of four stories. The property is one of those of Walter B. Duffy of this city.

Part of the large tile shed of the Rochester Sewer Pipe company was burned, the Sill Stove works were in danger and half a dozen dwellings took fire, but the heavy rain assisted the firemen in choking incipient flames.

Ten cars loaded with lumber were completely burned. The loss is well covered by insurance.

POINTS TWO GUNS AND DEMANDS MONEY*Masked Man Threatens Aged Worcester Locksmith But is Frightened Away.

Worcester, Mass., July 14.—A masked man, carrying a revolver in each hand, entered the shop of Edward K. Tolman, an aged locksmith, at 500 Main street, last night at 6:15 o'clock, and presented both guns at his head, commanding him to hand over what money there was in the place.

Tolman, who is a cripple, and hardly able to stand or walk alone, was alone at the time and immediately shouted "police." James Nicholson, a tailor who has a shop in the room adjoining Tolman's, responded to the man's cry with his son, and the hold up man ran down the stairs to the street and disappeared in the crowd which at that time thronged Main street.

The police are at work in the case, but have only a slight clue. Tolman was too badly frightened to pay much attention to the appearance of his visitor, but Nicholson, who got a good look at him, described him as a man about 21 years old, of medium complexion, five feet five inches tall, and weighing about 135 pounds. His features were partially concealed by a handkerchief.

The police think the man was a young fellow who was trying to emulate the heroes of "Wild West" stories.

Bellows Falls, July 14.—Hon. Chas. J. Ouellet with 25 other motor boat owners secured an injunction yesterday from Judge Stone of Keene, N. TOWN THREATENED.*Plymouth, Mass., Fire Department Had Its Hands Full.

Plymouth, Mass., July 14.—This town was seriously threatened by forest fires yesterday and the entire fire department with the exception of one hose reel left to guard the center of the town, was hurried to the outskirts, where they saved outlying buildings only after heroic work. Almost a panic was felt in the town.

Many of the inhabitants were obliged to wet down the roofs of their houses, as burning leaves and other debris dropped thickly into the main streets. Last night the town was filled with dense smoke, lighted up by lurid gleams of the fire barely held in check on the outlying village streets.

The fire first became dangerous at noon, when, fanned by a brisk north-west wind, it approached the town from near the Kingston line. The hamlet of Oakridge was directly in the path of the flames, and the inhabitants, despairing of holding this outpost, packed up their goods preparatory for leaving.

All the water in the cisterns was exhausted by the bucket brigades, for the fire went along the rear of the houses of the one street of the little settlement, backing up back fences, hen houses and outbuildings.

From Oakland the flames swept down into Royal street, which runs north and south. At this point the engines were called out and wet down the roofs of the houses.

VACCINATING COWS
AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS*Swanton Farmer Is Treating His Herd
Has Worked Successfully Elsewhere.

St. Albans, July 14.—The results of Professor von Behring's method of immunization against tuberculosis of cattle have been watched by many leading breeders in this section as well as throughout the country. Since 1901, when Von Behring announced that he was able to produce a serviceable immunity, which he had every reason to believe would protect the animal throughout its life, over 100,000 animals have been treated and the immunity is known to exist five and one-half years unimpaired in strength.

Dr. J. C. Parker of this city, in conjunction with Dr. H. H. Newcomb of New York, has vaccinated a large number of cattle in this vicinity. W. H. Hill, proprietor of the Frederickhurst Farms, Swanton, has recently adopted the method, having his young stock treated, and this he will continue until he has built up an entirely immune herd.

At several experiment stations and public institutions experiments have been conducted in which the vaccinated animals, with a like number unvaccinated, have been subjected to all manner of infection, both natural and artificial. The results in every case have shown in favor of the vaccinated, which showed no lesions on post-mortem, even while the unvaccinated died of tuberculosis.

DEER GOT HIS CABBAGE.*Now G. R. Temple of Newfane Wants State to Pay Him.

Brattleboro, July 14.—Roswell L. Frost of this town, county fish and game commissioner, is besieged with claims for damages done by deer. Five claims passed through his hands Monday, one of which was George R. Temple of Newfane, whose cabbage field was ruined by deer, 200 cabbage plants being eaten by them in two nights. Mr. Temple will be able to raise a late crop provided the deer do not get in to them again. The other claimants are George M. Ingram and E. H. Richardson of Newfane, Fred Thompson of Guilford and Luther Dustin of Brattleboro.

Deer do not usually go in large herds so late in the season, but Mr. Dustin saw 11 in one herd the past week. The southern part of the state is overrun with deer. Mr. Frost expects that something will be done by the legislature at the coming session to remedy the situation.

WOODEN LEG
FAILED HIM*John Keenan Couldn't Travel
So Fast as His Companion*AND WAS RECAPTURED*Inmate of Insane Asylum Is More Than Half Glad That He Is Back Where Foraging for Food Is Not So Difficult.

Waterbury, July 14.—John Keenan, the wooden-legged inmate of the state insane asylum, who escaped with Leroy Kent early Saturday morning, is back in the institution, glad that he is there rather than making a labored and tiresome fugitive march away from the officers who were looking for him. Keenan was captured late last night about five miles from Waterbury and on the road to Stowe.

At about eight o'clock last night, Mr. and Mrs. Gillette, who live on the Waterville-Stowe road, saw two men making their way north, and as one of them walked with a limp they suspected that the two were the fugitives from the insane asylum, of whose escape they had read in the newspapers. So they notified the authorities at Waterbury. Supt. D. D. Grout and Dr. H. B. Bone of the hospital staff and Deputy Sheriff O'Neill and Thomas O'Brien started in pursuit. They reached Gillette's place, and there found Mr. Gillette, armed with a shotgun with which he had endeavored to intimidate the fugitives into halting. He had not been sufficiently persuasive, however, and the two men disappeared into the woods.

Dr. Grout thought that it would not be worth while to make a search in the dense woods in the darkness, but the other members of the party wanted to make a try; so they went ahead, while Dr. Grout stayed with the team. When the others went into the woods he drove ahead for a short distance and as he went along he spied a man ahead. He drove along and recognized the man as one of the fugitives, John Keenan.

"Hello, John," he called out.

"Why, good Lord Harry, Doctor, what you doin' up here?" was the surprised response of the fugitive.

"I came up here to get you, John," then said Dr. Grout, inviting Keenan to get into the wagon.

Without resistance, Keenan climbed into the wagon, and Dr. Grout then summoned the searchers, who had gone out into the woods. The search was called off, and the party drove back to Waterbury. They think they will get Kent easily enough, as he will have to come out of the woods to get something to eat, and that before long. So no concerted effort to find him will be made now, depending on reports to the offices as soon as Kent is located. Keenan said that he and Kent separated along about two o'clock yesterday afternoon; but it is thought that they were together last night, until Kent got disgusted with Keenan's slow progress on one good leg and hiked out.

HE THREW MONEY
INTO MRS. PAITS' LAP*Testified One Man in City Court To-day in Liquor Raid Case, And He Got Some Liquor.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Paits were both bound over to the next term of county court on the charges of keeping and selling by Judge Scott in the city court this afternoon. A hearing was held this morning on the charge against Rudolph Paits and he was held as the owner of the liquor which was seized by the police at his house Saturday night. The court condemned the liquor and ordered it destroyed.

Witnesses put on the stand this morning were Officers Hamel and Carle, who testified to finding 12 full bottles of beer and two bottles partly emptied in the kitchen, and also a full quart bottle of whiskey in the bedroom and a beer glass in the shed with a small amount of whiskey in it; also Fred Carr, John Brown, Fritz Remlinger, Frank Silver, Harry Bonett, Chris Henderson, John Hughes, and James Savage. Savage testified to being a boarder at the Paits house and that he was drinking a bottle of beer when the police entered the house. The beer, he claimed, belonged to another boarder who had kept it in the ice chest. He said he never saw either Mr. or Mrs. Paits sell any liquor or take any money for liquor. The boarders, he said, had been there right along for their own use.

Harry Bonett testified to having got whiskey and beer of Mrs. Paits several times. He said he never took any pay for it, but he had sometimes thrown some money into her lap as he went away. The other witnesses testified to having been in the house, but never got any liquor from either of the Paitses.

M. M. Gordon defended and Grand Juror E. R. Davis prosecuted the case. At noon the case was adjourned to two o'clock, when Mrs. Paits waived examination in her case, and she and her husband were placed under $350 bail each for their appearance in county court.

FINANCES
OF THE STATE*Revealed in Statement Issued
To-day*FROM STATE TREASURER*The Liabilities Exceed the Assets Because the Huntington Fund Has Been Set in the Liability Column.

The summary of state finances for the biennial term, ending June 30, 1908, was made public to-day from the office of State Treasurer E. H. Devitt. It shows that there is an excess of liabilities over assets of $148,166.23, due to the transfer of the Huntington school fund to the liability column through act of the legislature of 1906. Had it not been for this transfer, State Treasurer Devitt would have been able to show an excess of assets to the amount of $62,965.18.

A comparison of the two years in the term covered by the report shows a slight increase in expenses, over and above the payment of $46,089.29 for permanent roads last year; a gain in miscellaneous receipts and an increase of $102,398.07 in taxes, other than state taxes. Whereas there was an excess of expenses over receipts of $9,229.44 in 1907, there was a balance on the other side of the ledger of $122,358.06 in 1908. However, that is more than balanced by the transfer of the Huntington fund, as noted above, leaving the liabilities $148,166.23 greater than the assets at present.

The detailed statement follows:

Auditor's orders paid	$1,021,035.90	$1,027,094.19
